Shay's hood

" Colonel Monroe spoke highly of you Shay, he was convinced that you would become the best amongst us. I expect that you will NOT disappoint. "

" I don't plan to, sir.

Later that night...

Shay was busy trying to add a Black Hood to his Templar Outfit. He intended to sew the hood around the Collar. Shay finished up the Measurements, and stuff, but barely started sewing when Haytham holding a letter walked into Shay's Quarters.

" Shay there's someth- , " He stopped when he saw the Hood, and stuff.

" What in the bloody hell are you doing? "

" What? " Shay asked.

" Templars are NOT permitted to wear hoods. " Haytham replied flatly.

" Oh. "

" Anyways Shay, there's a letter for you with the rules. " Said Haytham as he handed over the letter.

Shay took the letter and opened it

" And get rid of that thing." Haytham pointed at the Hood, then walked out.

._'Okay... So, change of plans. Instead of AROUND the collar, the hood goes in BETWEEN the Collar and the Nape of my neck. '_

* A FEW MINUTES LATER... ****

Shay prepared the Materials, and stuff...

He took a needle and a thread and "Locked" the thread to the needle.

Shay wasn't a skilled tailor, by the looks of him. But he did have some "Teachers" at some points in his life.

He pointed the needle at the Hood, which he placed on the Collar.

._' Well, here goes nothing. ' He thought to himself before closing his eyes when he was about to pierce a needle into his collar._

_Nothing happened. _

Shay opened his eyes to see that the needle did not go through

'_Damn, that cloth is strong' _

The Coat was in for a rough night.

So, What I think on Shay's hood is tucked down to the collar when not used, kind of like Jacob's, Except he has no hat. I am not the only one who had the same idea, obviously.

*The other guy was the author of an RBWY X AC crossover. ****

*I saw one of his/her Shay's hood concepts in one of the chapters. I don't know which. ****

The other guy's story is:

RBWY: The Hunter

* And by the way, I don't own Assassin's Creed*
